

2025-2026 Sea Turtle Nesting Survey Monitors

About WWF

The World Wide Fund for Nature (WWF) is one of the largest and most highly regarded conservation organization's in the world and aims to stop the degradation of our natural environment and build a future in which humans live in harmony with nature.

The Role

We seek qualified individuals who are self-driven, with some background in marine/ environmental studies, to provide support to the Sustainable Fisheries and Seafood Programme to conduct sea turtle nesting surveys.

The position will be based in WWF-Pacific's Suva Office, Fiji Islands (with travel to project sites).

Requirement:

Qualifications and Experience:

- Some background in Marine or environmental studies
- Have some communication skills, with the ability to communicate effectively at all levels and provide support to the field team (e.g. taking photos; write short blogs/reports; and interviewing community members);
- Strong assessment and analytical skills
- Excellent written and spoken communication skills
- Ability to work within the agreed timelines (clear, organized and practical approach in carrying out work)
- Dynamic team player
- Previous involvement in similar fieldwork in an advantage

Skills and Competencies:

- A self-starter.
- Attention to detail
- Ability to multitask.
- Pleasant & approachable.
- Be an employee champion.
- Good emotional intelligence skills.
- Ability to set priorities while working under minimal supervision.
- Ability to meet reporting deadlines.
- Possesses passion, drive and initiative, with a proven ability to achieve objectives.
- Demonstrated excellent PC based computer skills, preferably with current Microsoft Word, Excel, Outlook, PowerPoint and Access.
- Strong oral and written communication skills in English and iTaukei
- Clearly demonstrates behaviours aligned to the culture of WWF: Strive for Impact, Listen Deeply, Collaborate Openly and Innovate Fearlessly
- Identifies and aligns with WWF Core Values: Courage, Integrity, Respect & Collaboration.

Compensation & Benefits:

WWF will provide volunteers with training, modest allowance, field equipment and basic insurance coverage. All logistical support will be covered by WWF.

Duration:

Duration is 30 days. January – March 2026

Terms of Reference

For more information on the role, the job description can be downloaded from our website:

www.wwfpacific.org

How to Apply? Interested parties are requested to submit curriculum vitae and a cover letter with the subject line “2025-2026 Sea Turtle Nesting Survey Monitors” to: ppo.hr_recruit@wwfpacific.org by COB on Friday, 12th December 2025.